Foreword

In later years to come, the day by day activities of our four years here at A. & T. will be forgotten. Incidents of special significance, however, will remain as reminders of our four years of College life.

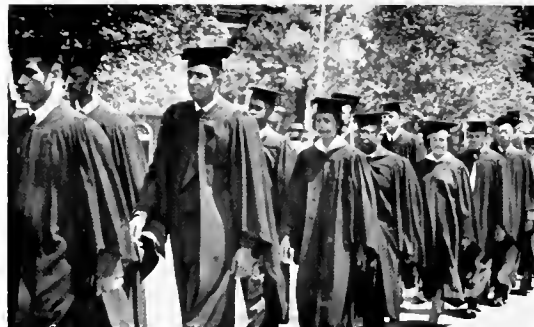

Who will forget the Presidential reception given us the first week of our arrival? Who will forget our freshmen talent night? Who will forget seeing our first homecoming win over Tennessee State University go up in smoke in the closing minutes of the game? Who can but help remembering how our football squad won the CIAA Championship our sophomore year and the National Championship the next year? Who can help but thrill at how our baseball team won three consecutive championships, turning in an undefeated record the third year? Who will forget the political campaigns on the campus with one candidate employing a mobile sound system one year? Who will forget the growth of our college with the addition of ten new buildings? What young man will forget his first stay in the W. Kerr Scott Hall after those trying years in the barracks on North Campus? What young lady will forget the gala homecomings and her ride on a float as an organizational queen? Who will forget the Greeks as they strove daily to outdo each other. Who will forget the dances and other festivities? Who will forget the Administration and faculty who sought so hard to prepare us for our day in the outside world? What young man in the A.F.R.O.T.C. will forget when the unit was first established at the college? Who can but remember the lyceum programs and the brilliant performances of the Aggies' "Pride and Joy," The College Marching Band? Who can forget The Messiah and The Seven Last Words of Christ as rendered by our Choral Society?

Through this book, the 1953 AYANTEE, we have sought to run a story of words and pictures of life at a great and growing institution.

Wherever crowds get together, and whenever there's talk of sports, College life and Alma Maters sung, a chill of remembrance will chase up and down the spine of former Aggie and Aggierette, John and Jane Doe, address A. & T. College, Greensboro, N. C., 1949-53.

GRADUATION LETTERS!

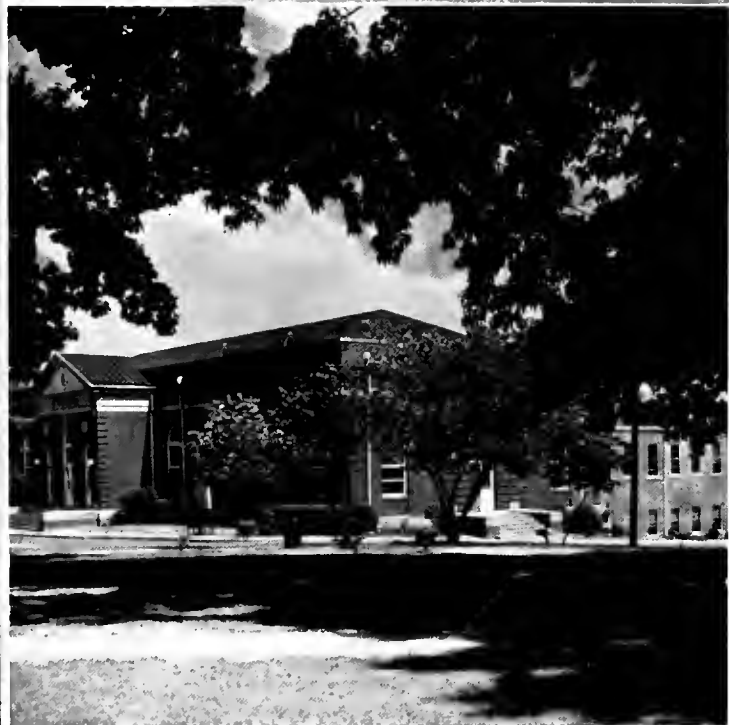

MR. LLEWELLYN ADDISON WISE

Dedication

For every year since 1937, save three, the same small, quiet and gentlemanly figure has appeared before every Senior Class of the institution. Upon his shoulders have been shed the tears of many beladen seniors. He has never been too busy to listen and give advice to members of the various graduating classes, concerning problems of grades, finance and others. For his untiring efforts to guide members of the Senior Classes while serving 13 years as Class Adviser, we the Seniors of '53 dedicate our "Bulldog" edition of the AYANTEE to Mr. Llewellyn Addison Wise.

CAMPUS BUILDINGS

Although our campus boast of numerous buildings, there are some which stand out in our minds more vividly than others.

Holland Hall, with its forever majestic look, is the women's dormitory that is blessed (if we may call it such) with the privilege of housing freshman young ladies.

Scott Hall, with its 505 bedrooms, is a haven for 1,010 young men. Inside its spacious recreation room, three lounges and five rooms for card playing, the young men enjoy a glorious time after study hours.

Murphy Hall, commonly called the dining hall, is the building that probably accommodates more visitors daily than any other building on the campus. Here our college family gets its three well-balanced meals per day. It would be a great injustice to omit this building.

Price Hall houses the bulk of the Technical Institute. It is here that the students may learn every trade from carpentry to radio and television. A worthwhile structure on a great and growing campus that's Price Hall.

DR. F. D. BLUFORD

. . . . To Our President

Dr. F. D. Bluford:

During our stay here at A. & T. you have been an example of one who has at heart the interests of all students. Your sincere and tireless efforts for the betterment of the college has resulted in a bigger and better institution of higher learning.

To us you have been a great leader and friend, one who was never too busy to listen to our many and complexing problems. You have shown to us the need for preparing ourselves to live in a changing world. The inspiration which you have given us through your life and works will forever remain with us as an inspiration to greater achievement in years to come.

The brains behind the smooth operation of the combined personnel and facilities of the great A. & T. College appear on these pages—Our administration. To them goes a lot of the credit for the many and varied improvements in all of the schools and departments of the institution. Truly, they receive their share of criticisms, but the Administrative heads of the college continue to progress in methods and procedures that make for a bigger and better A. & T.

To: Members of the 1953 Senior Class

My dear seniors:

The hour to which you are looking forward to with more eagerness and impatience than any other in your whole lives has almost arrived. We are doing the best that we can to prepare you for that great hour, which is so rapidly approaching, so that when you have finished your work here you will be able to take your places as capable, efficient and thoughtful workers in the various fields which you have chosen. New opportunities on a wider scale and a higher level will be offered to you than have ever been granted to a graduating class of this institution, and I hope that you will recognize them when they come, and that you will realize that they are given to you not only for your selfish ends, but that you might help others. I trust that you will always remember that as your Alma Mater is trying to teach you, that you must give out of the abundance of your hearts and lives the treasures which have been so freely given to you.

You are taking your places in the world at a time when there is a great intellectual, religious and moral ferment. You will have to find your way in a complicated but great civilization and under institutions of freedom, the most perfect the world has ever known. The training which you have received here will enable you to appreciate your unusual opportunities and will make you sensitive to your obligations to your fellowman. Men and women with a thirst for knowledge will turn to you for light and others who have no convictions of their own and who do not know their own sentiments until they have heard them expressed by someone else, will seek you for guidance. It will be very unfortunate for them, as well as for you, if you fail to give them a definite answer to the questions of the hour, as they will expect you to speak the word that will give them light, kindle in their hearts a patriotic devotion and will make the social atmosphere in which they live sweeter and more wholesome.

Your Alma Mater is conscious of the problems and difficulties that confront you and will be glad to assist you in any way that she can. We trust, therefore, that as you go forward you will carry with you an abiding interest in your Alma Mater, that you will remember her in your prayers and will constantly work and live so as to reflect her noble instruction in your characters. We shall always be happy to have you visit us or to write us and let us know of your progress and of your problems.

Wishing you abundant success, I am

Very truly yours,

F. D. BLUFORD
President

Over 900 Frosh Enter Aggie Land

Coming on the heels of one of the biggest building booms in the history of the college, 970 eager freshmen invaded A. and T. during Orientation Week last month. This total of newcomers is one of the highest according to figures listed by the Registrar's Office.

The huge class of frosh was well in keeping with the institution which itself is rapidly becoming one of the foremost educational institutions of the country. The college enrollment this year is now 2602 according to closest figures taken by the Registrar's Office thus far. Of this number more than 1500 are boys.

Expansion Noted

The large enrollment at A. and T. comes at a time when expansion of the college is at its highest peak. Some years ago the college began a several million dollar building program which is now nearing its completion. Finished thus far is the million dollar boys dormitory, the Technical Institute, the girls new dormitory, the agricultural extension building, and the chemistry building. These dedicated at this year's commencement which have the library, primary building.

"Deadlines"

For the first time in years, the Register staff was headed by a woman. But this year we have received the best of the "cream of college news" in years. With an able and highly qualified staff, Miss McArthur greatly improved the Register. Mr. R. R. Palmer, joining the staff as faculty adviser, insisted on "Accuracy" and for the first time in years, the staff met all deadlines.

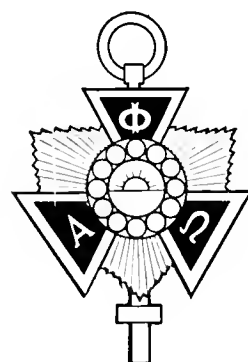

Proof! You received your papers on time, didn't you?

THE GREEKS

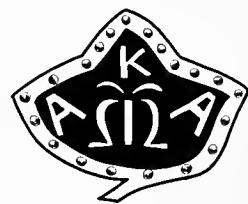

There are nine social fraternities and sororities on the campus, each with its own special types of programs and activities. Daily they try to outdo each other but are held in check by the Pan Hellenic Council, the guardian of the Greeks. The Pan Hellenic Council, composed of three delegates from each social fraternity and sorority, promotes inter-fraternal co-operation and harmonious relationship between the Greeks and the administration.

The spring social season is highlighted by the Greek dances, among them are the "Black and White," "Blue Revue," "Mardi Gras," and the "Kappa Kruise."

Aggieland's First Lady

With great pride, we, the seniors, salute the choice of the student body for the 1952-53 "Miss A. & T.," the charming Miss Clara Lorraine Johnson. Miss Johnson, a product of Dudley High School in Greensboro, was chosen for this highest honor largely because of her warm personality and friendly smile. A member of the Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, she is active in many phases of campus life, ranging from affiliation with the American Chemical Society to being a loyal member of the Campus Sunday School. A major of the Social Sciences, she warms the hearts of her fellow students as she reigns over the dominion of AGGIELAND.

HOMECOMING

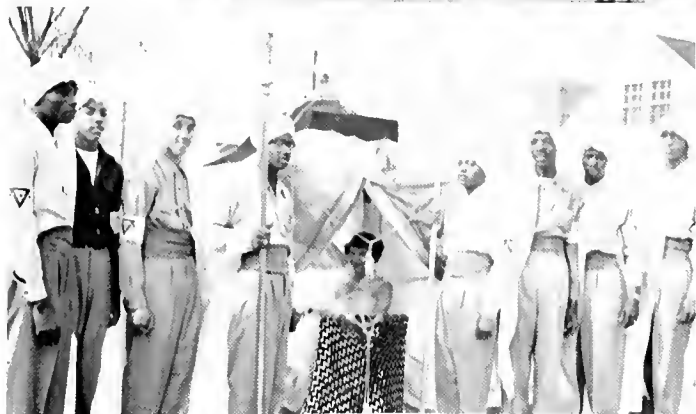

Beautiful weather prevailed this colorful November day as the college community busied itself to line up the floats for that long parade to the stadium. Thousands of fans had already jammed the stadium to standing room only. After all, had not these same two teams, the Morgan State College "Bears" and the A. & T. "Aggies," fought to a 0-0 stalemate two years earlier on the same grounds? With the undefeated "Aggies" rated as the country's No. 1 team and the once defeated "Bears" still considered a top contender for national honors, the fans settled back for the game of the season. After sixty minutes of play and a gala half-time show of floats, queens, and band maneuvers and music, the smoke cleared and the astonished crowd had witnessed the most unexpected upset of the season. The Morgan "Bears" had nipped the "Aggies" 16 to 12.

"The day we met Va. State"

"Smith had a holiday"

"Team down! Get set!" First and ten for the "Aggies" are cries that echo throughout our minds from the past gridiron season. We shall never forget the courage shown by the home team, from start to finish, win or lose. Our boys showed spirit possessed only by the true champions.

Although their season record of 7 wins and 4 losses is not spectacular, the "Aggies" displayed feats to hold the spectators spell-bound. Yes, our boys are real heroes in the true sense of the word.

“Men of the Hardwood”

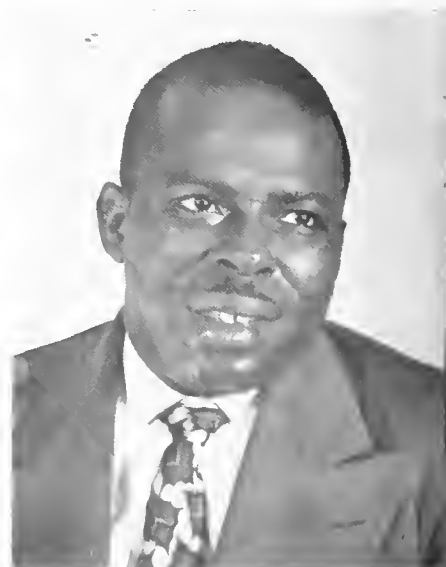

“Men of the hardwood,” the Aggie Hoopsters represent the acme of teamwork and co-operation as they move onto the gym floors to play the best of college teams. Win or lose, these hearty fellows give the spectators an evening of thrilling excitement as they maneuver the ball from center to basket to rack up scores and more scores.

“On the Cinderpath”

Our College Cindermen have distinguished themselves, nobly, over the year. Answering to the call of sports fans for excitement whether it be track, high jump, hurdle or pole vault, they have turned in amazing records.

The team's record for the year of 1951-52 was very commendable. The team won the Alabama Relays held in Montgomery, Ala. and the Tuskegee institute Relays at Tuskegee, and was runner-up in the Camp Lejeune Relay for its best record in track history. The team placed fourth in the C.I.A.A. meet behind Morgan, N. C. College and Lincoln University.

Two sports not followed with too much enthusiasm are tennis and boxing. Nevertheless our teams turned in championships in the past two years.

“Batter Up”

“It’s a home run!” A familiar remark in Memorial Stadium when the CIAA Champions are on the field. Springtime in Greensboro finds hundreds of Aggies baseball fans on their way to the stadium to see the Aggie “stick” boys win another game. Boasting of a record of three consecutive CIAA Championships, going undefeated in ’52, the Aggie teams have established a record of which every Aggie is proud.
